

NEW SOL3G PERSONNEL STRUCTURE

Press Release 07/04/2008

R+D and Operations Department extension

With the objective of increasing its already intensive research and development effort, Sol3g has carried out an expansion of its R+D Department, with Jordi Casiano as R+D Responsible, and Operations, with José A. Marco as Operations Director. They both have an extensive professional experience, that contributes knowledge and new ideas to the company.

After the factory inauguration in Terrassa, Sol3g has needed to increase its human resources. So, the organization growth has been made up for human capital reinforcement. The staff efforts have been always approached to improve constantly the technology developed and to design new projects.

The staff development responds to the purpose of continue leading the world-wide market of HCPV systems. The bet on innovation and continuous growth is the key to Sol3g success.
